PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I am a software engineer developing and maintaining software applications. I have full stack web development, mobile application development, and software engineering. My greatest strength is my ability to analyze complex problems and design efficient solutions. I possess excellent communication skills that help me collaborate effectively with other teams and stakeholders to ensure successful project completion. My biggest achievements include developing an internet banking system for a major bank which reduced their processing time by 20%, and creating a mobile application for tracking employee attendance that increased efficiency by 25%. My skills include strong knowledge of object-oriented programming, database management, and problem-solving. I am also highly proficient in HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript, AWS services and .NET framework.
